VOS - Bringing IT Together

Updated February 2009

VOS™ is an established service provider of software, utilities and related business resources. VOS™ entered the SaaS (Software as a Service) market well before it became the rage, and before many of the buzz words like “cloud computing”, hosted software, hosted business resources and SaaS had gained notoriety. Hosted business solutions at VOS™ are seeing dramatic increases in interest and acceptance because it satisfies two fundamental business principles- reduce cost and increase productivity.

In the simplest terms, VOS™ puts your data files with your programs and makes both available to you from nearly any computer that has Internet access. There is much more to it, but the fundamental concept of putting “your data files” with “your programs” is so critical to your business that it deserves attention before such topics as saving money, security, storage capacity, speed and other aspects of VOS™ services.

So here we are, decades into the technology revolution and we use laptops, home computers, Internet kiosks, hotel business center computers, wireless hotspots, Blackberrys® and it all is convenient and easy to use. Right? Well, maybe. The greatest problem we now face is bringing it all together so you have what you need, when you need it! There are files at work, in email, at home, on jump drives, on PDA's... Where is the most recent copy? How easily can you get to it? Is the information secure? Is it protected from loss? VOS™ is the answer to all these questions and more.

VOS™ stores your files, your programs, your email- the things you need- in a secure data center and then make them accessible via the Internet. So the most recent copies of your documents are online all the time! You can work with them from nearly any system with Internet access. This relieves most of the IT burden from your operations and allows you to focus on your business!
